

Dr. Flinchbaugh is an award-winning Professor of Agricultural Economics at Kansas State University and a long-time advisor on ag policy to politicians of both parties. A native of York, Pennsylvania, he holds degrees from Penn State University and Purdue University. He has received the Outstanding Teacher Award from KSU College of Agriculture students on three different occasions. Dr. Flinchbaugh served as Chairman of the Commission on 21st Century Production Agriculture authorized in the 1996 Farm Bill.

He receives approximately 150 speaking invitations per year and is the author of 100-plus publications including an agricultural policy textbook. Dr. Flinchbaugh applies his vast knowledge and experience in agriculture, economics, and politics to create a straightforward and entertaining blend of these three topics.