

Tracey Mann is Vice President and Director of Industrial Sales and Leasing for Zimmer Real Estate Services. He has represented and advised dozens of businesses from Fortune 500 companies to smaller start-ups in Kansas and specializes in manufacturing, warehouse, and distribution facilities throughout the state.

A fifth generation Kansan, Tracey was born and raised on his family's farm near Quinter. He attended Kansas State University and was elected Student Body President before graduating with a degree in Agricultural Economics. During his time at K-State, Tracey had the privilege of being Congressman Jerry Moran's first intern in Washington, DC. After college, Tracey spent two years working in Washington for the National Student Leadership Forum, assisting members of the House of Representatives and the United States Senate to envision, plan and establish leadership conferences and programs throughout the country for college student leaders.

Tracey resides in Salina and enjoys spending time with his wife Audrey and daughter Quincy. He returns to the family farm to help during harvest. Additionally, Tracey enjoys traveling as well as playing and watching sports, especially K-State football.
